LEAD AS A GLOBAL CITIZEN WORLD SERIES WEBINAR

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

CHAMPIONING GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP

Helping your students to position themselves to become global citizens and leaders in the 21st century is hard enough. Adding on the multiple shocks that the Covid-19 crisis pandemic is inflicting on young people can feel devastating for their education and training. With so much at stake – the inequalities and risks reducing the productive potential of an entire generation, alongside serious impacts on young people’s mental well-being – how are you supposed to find time, and to know how to address your students’ concerns and aspirations to connect, contribute and lead?

We can ensure that your students’ voices are heard. The truth is the concept of Global Citizenship is embedded in the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals through SDG 4: Ensuring Inclusive and Quality Education for All and Promote Life Long Learning, which includes global citizenship as one of its targets. By 2030, the international community has agreed to ensure that all learners acquire the knowledge and skills needed to promote sustainable development, including global citizenship. With Universities having the responsibility to do so.

This is why we want to work with you to promote global citizenship to your students by empowering them.

We believe when young people are provided with the right tools, knowledge and network, they stand the greatest chance to champion positive societal change.

LEAD AS A GLOBAL CITIZEN WORLD SERIES WEBINARS

Imagine your students being part of a Global Community of change-makers to champion social change. And now imagine them embracing social responsibility to act for the benefit of all societies, not just their own.

Together, youths are the advocates of a better world. Promoters of a sustainable future. Leaders of more peaceful, just and inclusive societies.

OUR COMMITMENT

With 10 years of experience in curating youth empowerment programs, we have helped more than 10,000 young people from around the world to be connected with like-minded peers and humanitarian leaders. Our co-partners include international agencies such as the United Nations and various governments of countries in Asia including the Prime Minister's Office, the Ministry of Education, and the Ministry of Culture.

We understand that these difficult times are challenging and raise interpellation on our resilience capacity as humans, individually and collectively.

At Humanitarian Affairs Asia, we are confident that adverse situations are the best opportunities to demonstrate our strengths and learn from our weaknesses. Always moving forward, we, as social changemakers, want to mobilize the international community of young leaders to take action, even during this pandemic.

"A remarkable civil society organization that has a fine record of engaging young people in volunteer humanitarian work, thereby providing creative avenues for young people to develop good citizenship and leadership skills while benefiting disadvantage communities."

- United Nations Development Programme (UNDP)

"Humanitarian Affairs Asia is the best organizer, most professional and dedicated NGO I have worked with in terms of conferences and youth empowerment. The quality of their work is reflected in the feedback from the participants, the satisfaction of the speakers, and the continuous partnerships they have with governments, other organizations and the United Nations."

- Felipe Queipo,
Communications and Outreach Officer,
UN Department of Global Communications,
United Nations, New York.

"Humanitarian Affairs Asia's youth empowerment events gave me the transferrable skillset and service-oriented mindset to strive towards the greater vision of empowering young people to flourish, lead purposeful lives and contribute to society as virtuous citizens."

- Leonie Nahhas, recipient of DFAT New Colombo Scholars and Humanitarian Affairs Asia Global Youth Award.
